

PANIC BUTTON 'GUERRILLA TESTING'

EVERY THURSDAY IN OCTOBER from 12-4PM in the reception, we will be looking for volunteers to drop-in and test the Panic Button app.

What is Panic Button?

Panic Button is an Android phone alert application for human rights defenders and individuals at risk. It works by sending an SMS and location coordinates to an individual's selected network at the touch-of-a-button.

We need your help to ensure the app is as user-friendly as possible!

There'll be coffee and biscuits for all those who help.

We need everybody's help reveal usability issues common to all users.

You don't need special knowledge or skills to help us - please feel free to drop in to the reception area!

We'll be there every Thursday for the next month from 12-4PM.

We promise it won't take long, and you're free to leave at anytime.

I have questions, who can I contact?

Please email: tanya.ocarroll@amnesty.org

See you there!

AMNESTY INTERNATIONAL

